A Year of Grace with St Joseph Marello

Greetings my brother Knights,

Happy New Year 2026! May we spend this year in service of our God by dedicating our entire life, time, talents and efforts for his glory and the spread of his Kingdom, under the guidance of his Holy Spirit.

Entering this new year, we continue our celebration of St. Joseph Marello, in preparation for the 25th Anniversary of his Canonization, by exploring his particular virtues. Virtues that he both appreciated in St. Joseph and that he sought to live in his own life. Previously, we considered his humility and his hidden life. Now we come to another "H" virtue in the life and spirituality of both St. Josephs: hard work or industriousness.

We know that this applies to St. Joseph, husband of Mary and earthly father to Jesus, because he is referred to by the title (and has a feast day under that title on May 1!), St. Joseph the Worker. His trade was carpentry, though his material was not only wood. The word in Greek used to describe his trade is "tekton" which means one who builds and constructs using various natural materials. He would have used stones and metals as well as wood, then. Though the Gospels do not speak directly about Joseph at work, we do know that Jesus, when he returned to his hometown of Nazareth during his ministry, was known as the son of the carpenter. This indicates that St. Joseph was known

For his work, implying that his work was appreciated and sought after. In other words, he was a good worker. What is more important, however, is that his work was done in answer to God's call and according to God's will. We know this because Joseph is referred to as a "just" man and this refers to somebody who is living according to God's laws and is after God's heart. That Joseph worked hard and did not do enough just to "get by" is that his fame was associated with his work. This is also seen in the fact that, though a poor family living in a poor town, Joseph was able to provide for his family such that both Mary and Jesus were able to fulfill what God asked of them. "Joseph the Worker" could easily be referred to as "Joseph the Hard Worker"!

What of Marello? Well, let's consider all of the roles he had after his ordination to the priesthood: secretary to the bishop, spiritual director and catechist in the seminary, spiritual director of various young people, founder of the Oblates of St. Joseph, director of the Cerrato Hospice, collaborator in the Michelero Orphanage, canon of the Cathedral, chancellor of the Diocese...and then named Bishop of Acqui, while continuing as founder! Now that is a lot of work! That he did the work well and responsibly is demonstrated by the fact that he was loved and appreciated by all and that he was never fired from any position held as long as he held them. Hard worker indeed! And, as with his patron Joseph of Nazareth, all for the glory of God and according to God's will.

One final observation about Marello and work: he considered the most important work to be prayer. In writing to a fellow priest and at a difficult time for the church, he proclaimed that the most important apostolate was prayer! When lamenting the youth abandoned by society and the need to work for their betterment, he then says we must pray, pray for our young people...before any other activity!

So, may brother Knights, let us follow the example of industriousness, of hard work, of our St. Josephs, and this most especially by increasing our time and intensity of prayer.

Wishing you all a fruitful and blessed year 2026!

A Word from Our Worthy Fraternal Insurance Agent *Dave Moeller

Brother Knights,

Happy New Year! As we begin this new year, we give thanks for all the blessings we received in 2025 and prayers of hope that this new year will include blessings for one and all!

Of course, this talk about a hopeful future brings us to the usual thinking about the new year...making resolutions. All of us want to resolve to do those things that will lead to happier, healthier lives.

Some of the most common resolutions are to lose weight, exercise more, or perhaps spiritually centered around a more prayerful life. Others think more about quality time...quality time spent with their family, friends and those most important in our lives.

As you think about family, one resolution I can help you with is financial peace of mind with a free, professional review of your financial health and goals. Are you where you want to be? Do you have a plan? Some members are not even aware of all the products we have to offer: Life insurance, long term care insurance, disability income insurance and retirement savings products. These products can help protect your family in all the financial situations where you might find yourself.

Life insurance protects your loved ones financially if you are not here to help provide. How much do you and your family need? I can help with that.

Disability income insurance provides a paycheck if you are sick or hurt and can't work. If your company offers some, do you know how much, for how long and is it taxable? I can help sort that out.

Long term care insurance protects those assets you've worked so hard all your life to accumulate. Don't deplete all the family's savings for a care event when the Knights can take on that risk.

With concern about upcoming market volatility and the health of Social Security, our fixed rate annuities guarantee an interest rate for life, the safety of a conservative investment strategy, and an income stream you cannot outlive.

What's most important to you and your family? Resolve today to meet with me and ensure that at the end of this new year, your financial picture will not only be more clear, but that you will have financial peace of mind for you and your family.

Wishing you and your family a blessed 2026!

God Bless!
